The contenting and an existence of the property of the contenting and the shutions—God given—would last for ages—that even the end of the present Chutstian Dispensation would make no very great change—certainly not utterly overthrow them. I do not so read the prophecies. Turn to the 30th chapter of Jeremish, wherein we read of the restoration to the II by Land of the entire Jewish nation—Israel and Judah—the teal lost ribes included. The prophet gives the most forcible description of that great event, and the entire chapter is sarnestly commend-d to those who may feel interested. The particular point to which I desire just now to call attention is in the tith verse. The Lord, by the mouth of flis prophet, says to the whole nation: "Frough I make a full end of all nations which I have scattered thee, vet will find the safety of the prophet, says to the whole nation: "Frough I make a full end of all nations which I have scattered thee, vet will find the safety of the prophet says to the whole nation: "Trough I make a full end of all nations which I have scattered thee, vet will find the safety of the prophet says to the whole nation: "Trough I make a full end of all nations which I have scattered thee, vet will find the prophet says to the whole nation: "Trough I make a full end of all nations which I have scattered thee, vet will find the prophet says to the whole nation: "Trough I make a full end of all nations which I have scattered thee, we twill find the prophet says to the whole nation."
